Don't Quit! Not Quite

HeyHiHello!

You know its a cloudy day here
Spring will be well worth the wait
Ill be sure to greet the sunshine
To the frozen buckeye state
Along with the warmer weather
I think you might thaw my heart
After all the coldest winters
Have torn it apartYou and I, well, we could be just fine
If only I knew you had the time!The temperature seldom rises past that wintry thermometer line
Now Im tempted to travel to your state just to steal some sunshine
But if ever you come back with me and turn my gray skies a bright blue Id feel right at home to hold your hand and chase the clouds with youYou and I, well, we could be just fine
If only I knew you had the time!Ill fall asleep, thats right
Ill fall asleep tonight
With nothing on my mind
Except for the sunlightYou and I, well, we could be just fine
If only I knew you had the time!Ill fall asleep, thats right
Ill fall asleep tonight
With nothing on my mind
Except for the sunlight
