This World

The Tellers

Another child is born
Another race is won
Another dream is shattered
Another day has begun
This world is still a float
No not in Noah's boat
We've only lost the vision
Of the stars we're meant to be
Another broken heart
Another lesson learnt
Another harvest eaten
Another night is gone
A new day's begun
Even your dreams they can be real
This world is still a float
No not in Noah's boat
We've only lost the vision
Of the stars we're meant to be
This world is still a float
No not in Noah's boat
We've only lost the vision
Of the stars we're meant to be
This world is full of love, we still have hope
This world is full of love, we still have hope
This world is full of love, we still have hope
