Miss You More

Matt Simons

Back when we made our choice, miles behind us Now when I hear your voice, I'm reminded of All of the love we share, how we're missing out
But we've got our lives to liveI know there's no one like you here
I know there's no one like you here
and we both have no intention of holding back
So I will miss you moreYou know I grow so tired, tired of leaving Motion will not be made by believing that We can just sit right here and love will conquer all
That would be so naiveI know there's no one like you here
I know there's no one like you here
and we both have no intention of holding back
So I will miss you more
I will miss you more
I will miss you more
Watch the months fly by There's hope for you and I
We must not lose sight oh no no...We'll see how I carry on, on without you Knowing that most my thoughts are all about you Now, I will be waiting till we can be together and I can come home for goodI know there's no one like you here
I know there's no one like you here
and we both have no intention of holding back
I will miss you more
I will miss you more
I will miss you more
I will miss you more

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/