Burn the Sun

Massive

Every breath we take we're getting older
Every step we take we drift apart
SO hide your mind, choose to run
'cause you're the Queen of hesitationThis time I won't follow in your footsteps
This time I won't walk away alone
Here's the truth, the me, the you
The honesty thats killing you
The change of faith, the change of fate
And now I'm fighting for myself to fight againBurn out the sun just waiting for you
(Somehow the world keeps turning)
When your life never seemed so realThis time I believe we're getting deeper
This time I believe we're here to stay
Then we fall, we fade
We're waiting for our chance to live again
You know that we will never be the same
'Cause now we're fighting for ourselves to fight againBurn out the sun just waiting for you
(Somehow the world keeps turning)
When your life never seemed so realBurn out the sun just waiting for you
(Somehow the world keeps turning)
When your life never seemed so real
