

Who You Are

Kath Bloom

I went down to the river at the edge of our town and i look at the water and i look further downhey hey should i drive or can i swim that far oh thats what do u do when u dont like who you arewell i know i am not that easy sometimes i dont even try but i wish that i love u, before u said goodbye because i saw those tears falling as you got into the car
who you arelove, is it too late cost, is it too great in the end, the end , the end, will we have seen all of our dreamsoh i hear u'vebeen drinking like you're stealing your fate and whats worse allyour children may inherit your traits thats what u said in the bar and i know thats what u said, what you said, what u saidi 'd run right to your house and i';; get down on my kneed and i'll beg your forgivenessand we'll turn off the TV we'll look up in the stars
