

3 Am

Streetlight On Lori

I lay still so the pain can find its way into my veins and contaminate my heart love's on my mind, it grows overtime so hard to find, so hard to start maybe i need someone to stare in my eyes with equal affection maybe someone needs me to hold onto for a night i'll be her protection maybe someone needs me to take their breath for a while then she'll take mine and she'll smile and i'll smile but i hardly deserve these things that i desire i'll admit I've been the worst and i dance to my own fire but i'd burn like hell to feel like they do it's 3 AM, i'm waking up i see what i am,I've seen it enough to know this here I've really let myself go but my heart is not as dead as it shows instead of waking up on someone's floor, i wanna wake to someone i adore darling search for my key i wanna find the other side of this door but i can hardly get a handle the keyhole's blocked,i'm locked within it;'s dark inside this manhole that I've covered up and i'll watch me sink , there's so much more I've got to give so much love beneath the skin but I've seen myself beyond relief i'm drenched and covered, the colors they seep into me i can barely believe the lies that i tell i guess it's just as well that i haven't got someone,m that's not always fair and it's scary to see yourself going nowhere
it's 3 AM. i'm waking up
i see what i am, I've seen it enough
to know this here I've really let myself go but my heart's not as dead as it shows
darling search for my key, i wanna find the other side of this door cause i'm more than i show to everyone as i hide behind this front, but i won't bleed so hold your cures, cause the less this throws the voice from my face i'm not bleeding for anyone, i'm not bleeding until i'm done

it's 3 AM, i'm waking up

but my hearts not as dead as it

it's 3 AM, i'm waking up

darling search for my key, i wanna find the other side of this door.
