

Divide

Glasser

You can't see it now
But the moon's up somewhere
And there my family sleeps, unaware
Here the sun's out, shining on my distant life
And there my family sleeps unaware We've got love sustained
In a file, in a frame
And we move through our lives tethered to the name
But I miss the idle moments that define who we are
You mine and I yours If I could I'd swim out too you
Climb the swelling hills
Meet you on the ocean
Only for a momentary kiss
Underwater bridges forming
Rising with my will
Meeting on the ocean
Only for a momentary kiss You mine and I yours
