

Suspicion

Richard Marx

So many times
Ive asked myself the question
Hiding in plain sight
Is your love another self-propeller perception? Burning in my mind
You dont know where Ive been
I count too many sins
To play de sad charade Suspicion kisses you when I do
Though Ive never let you know
I only wish you knew what I knew
So we could both enjoy the show
Here in the crucible Or could there be another explanation
Im not aware of
Or should I just ignore the situation
Call me in care of I dont know where youve been
Your lies is paper thin
I see the truth erased Suspicion kisses you when I do
Though Ive never let you know
I only wish you knew what I knew
So we could both enjoy the show
Here in the crucible You dont know where Ive been
I count too many sins
To play de sad charade Suspicion kisses you when I do
Though Ive never let you know
I only wish you knew what I knew
So we could both enjoy the show
Here in the crucible
