

She Spider

Yongol

After we fall asleep our sun rise
I will make it the truth of painfully
Helping me cover up things
I wish I never had found Confident, tangled up in a nice life
Put the spider in you watching in disregard
You live a nice life with the spider and you
I saved myself for someone, somewheres sweet caress
Something goes wrong and all I sought was happiness Confident, tangled up in a nice life
Put the spider in you watching in disregard
You live a nice life with the spider and you
I saved myself for someone, somewheres sweet caress
Something goes wrong and all I sought was happiness And so in right wing fashion
We'll nurture xenophobia
And be strong in right wing fashion
With paste and generosity Because no one is safe
From someone, somewheres sweet embrace
And so I have simply decided
To dislike you now
