

Before I Fall

In Flames

I've far to go, I never know
I pushed too hard, so you ran away
I know you bleed for me
And you know, oh I'm dying for you A journey with open eyes
From darkness to light The cold is real, now that I know
The scars I feel, but I won't let go
I know that I can find
The meaning of it all
Put my fears behind
Before I fall My will to be, something more
A sailor of words, and be what I promise
I know you bleed for me
I know I will die for you A journey with open eyes
From darkness to light The cold is real, now that I know
The scars I feel, but I won't let go (won't let go)
I know that I can find
The meaning of it all
Put my fears behind
Before I fall Put my fears behind
Put my fears behind
Put my fears behind
Before I fall The cold is real, now that I know
The scars I feel, but I won't let go (won't let go)
I know that I can find
The meaning of it all
Put my fears behind
Before I fall
