

Screwed

Metrognome

Please don't let it begin
You're under my skin, same old story
    Boy meets girl and she falls
        Much harder than him
    Baby, where's the glory?
        If all night, all night
    Your attention's not mine
        Please don't let it begin
You're under my skin, it's a sin
    'Cause you're starting to win
        Since I'm already screwed
    Here's a message to you
        My heart's wide open
And I'm just not getting through
    To the lover in you
        But I'm still hoping
    That tonight, tonight
You're gonna turn down the lights
    And give me a little more room
        Just to prove it to you
    What do I gotta do?
        Just push her aside
    She's not your type, so cliché
