

Blue Bay Blues

Richard Clapton

Janie, see how good the sky looks today
I'll bet they're having fun up in Byron Bay
All our friends, oh, I'm feeling just a little bit blue
I can tell it's been getting to you too, trying to make sense
And the sun is shining up the end of the road
We don't even know where it goes
We're outsiders without even knowing why
And I've got the blue bay blues
I've got those blue bay blues
Nowadays we don't see so many friends here in town
But I try not to let it get me down, guess they all got out
I remember when we thought that we could fight it
I guess, we got born in the wrong time hid by clouds
And the sun is shining up the end of the road
We don't even know where it goes
We're outsiders without even knowing why
And I've got the blue bay blues
I've got those blue bay blues
From day to day I get less sure
Of where the other guy is going
He's acting just as if he knows it all
But the seeds of doubt are sown
And the sun is shining up the end of the road
We don't even know where it goes
We're outsiders without even knowing why
And I've got the blue bay blues

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>