

Too Many Friends

Placebo

My computer thinks I'm gay I threw that piece of junk away on the champs-Elysees as I was walking home.this is m last communique down the supper highway all that I have left to say in a single tome.I got too many friends too many people that I'll never meet and I'll never be there for I'll never be there for cause I'll never be there.If I could give it all away will it come back to me someday like a needle in the hay or an expensive stone.But I got a reson to declaim the applications are to blame for all my sorrow an my pain a feeling so alone.I got too many friends too many people that I'll never
for I'll never be there for cause I'll never be there.My computer thinks I'm gay I threw that piece of junk
as I was walking home.I got too many friends too many people that I'll never
for I'll never be there for cause I'll never be there
