Battleships

Travis

When will you carry me home
Like the wounded star in the movie?
When will you carry me home
Take it back to the start when you knew me?'Cause when you talk to me that way
I'll be a million miles away
I guess, it's just another day in loveWe're battleships drifting in an alley river
Taking hits, sinking, it's now or never
Overboard, drowning in a sea of love and hate
It's too late, battleship downWhen will you figure it out
That you're not always right, little darlin'?
When will you figure out
That it's not worth the fight, little darlin'?'Cause when you can't think what to say
You go and throw it all away
I guess, it's just another day in loveWe're battleships drifting in an alley river
Taking hits, sinking, it's now or never
Overboard, drowning in a sea of love and hate
But it's too late, battleship downBut you're too smart and I'm too dumb
With no heart in the middleWe're battleships drifting in an alley river
Taking hits, sinking, it's now or never
Overboard, falling into the ocean
Ship to shore, drowning in a sea of love and hate
But it's too late, battleship down
