New York

The Zombies

When I was just a young man
Stilled inside my teens
Stepped into your city streets
Stepped into a dream
America
Where all my heroes lay
Dylan Miles and Elvis
Jerry Lee and RayAnd I came to love you New York
Your energy your honesty
City of a million dreams
You gave one up to me
New YorkI walked into the Brooklyn Fox
That snowy Christmas Day
And Patty and the Blue Bells
Simply stole my heart away
She took me to Aretha Franklin
Showed me so much soul
And helped us join the party
With our English Rock and RollAnd I came to love you New York
Your energy your honesty every time
City of a million dreams
You gave one up to me
New YorkNow I played so many times
Since nineteen sixty four
In cities all across the land
From shore to distant shore
And I loved the way the people
Always opened up their hearts
But I never will forget the things
The magic world I still embrace
The place I never could replace
That gave us such a startAnd I've come to love you New York
Your energy your honesty every time
City of a million dreams
You gave one up to me
New York
