

Stay With Us

Seoul

I run and hit the floor
Only for the last time
All night, and
And you don't yet deserve, anything
That you want
You are, ooh

To you
I know
I just want to be fair
When opening up to you
To you
It's an effort to care
And apathy's weird to you

I wait
Standing in the hallway
Taking off my coat so slow
Cause you wouldn't want me there
And as the, living room gets darker
All that you would offer me
Is fears of the difficulty

I run and hit the floor
Only for the last time
All night and
I knew I would deserve, better than what you are
You are, ooh

I know
I just want to be fair
When opening up to you
To you
It's an effort to care
And apathy's weird to you
