Know Nothing

Travis

Everything that you know is as wrong as the next
So you hold on to something and hope for the best
And you know that it's right 'til you find that it's left
And I'm doing the same and I have to confessThat I know nothing, I never knew that There'd be nothing and no one to show you the way
I know nothing, when all I do is
Make it through to the end of the dayAll my senses are pushing the whole other way
I can't see where to look now what's that, that you say?
It's a beautiful world, it's a beautiful day
And I wish I could say if I was feeling the sameWhen I know nothing, I never knew that There'd be nothing and no one to show me the way
I know nothing
I need an Obi-wan to tell me if I've gone astrayAnd I wish it was clearer to see
If you are what you're made out to be
But there's no guarantee if you're you and I'm me
And there never will be, 'til I can see what you seeWhen I know nothing, I never knew that there'd be Nothing and no one to show you the way
I know nothing, when all I do is
Make it through to the end of the dayI, when I know nothing, I never knew that there'd be Nothing and no one to show me the way
I know nothing, when all I do is
Make it through to the end of the dayWhen I know nothing I never knew that there'd be Know nothing, I never knew that there'd be
Know nothing, I never knew that there'd be
Know nothing, I never knew that there'd be

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/