

The Shreds of Sanity

Bolt Thrower

Within your minds
You feel a force
Striving to gain control
It burns you deep inside No one can help you now You try to focus on reality
Feel your minds slipping
An outside air of composure
Inside you're screaming
Inside you're screaming White blinding lights
Now turns your world to black
Alone in silence
You prepare to meet the final attack Your minds now out of control
A psychological disease
Your greatest fears envelop your mind
Infect it with torment Now totally insane
You can't remember your life before
A final vain hope
As you grasp for the shreds The shreds of sanity, of sanity
The shreds of sanity, of sanity You cannot hide the fear
Confusion eats at your will
You lived your life upon a knife edge
Of sanity As your grip begins to fail
The words echo through your mind
Look what's become
Of your world, your world The shreds, the shreds of sanity, of sanity
The shreds, the shreds of sanity
