Northern Star

Tania Christopher

And I cry and no one can hear
Inhale, the blinded eyes see
Chaos, bring the pitiful to me
Even though I'm wide awake, I will
And blackest night, and I wait for you
It's cold in here, there's no one left
And I wait for you, and nothing stops it happening
And I knew I'd cherish all my misery alone
And I wait starin' at the Northern Star
I'm afraid it won't lead me anywhere
He's so cold, he will ruin the world tonight
All the angels kneel into the Northern Lights
Kneel into the frozen lights
And they paid, I cry and cry for you
Ghosts that haunt you with their sorrow
I cried 'cause you were doomed
Praying to the wound that swallows
All that's cold and cruel
Can you see the trees, charity and gratitude
They run to the pines
It's black in here blot out the sun
And run to the pines
Our misery runs wild and free
And I knew, the fire and the ashes of his grace
And I wait starin' at the Northern Star
I'm afraid it won't lead you very far
He's so cold, he will win the world tonight
All the angels kneel into the frozen lights
Feel their hearts, they're cold and white
And I want you, and blessed are the broken
And I beg you
No loneliness, no misery is worth you
Oh, tear his heart out, cold as ice, it's mine
And I wait prayin' to the Northern Star
I'm afraid, no, won't lead you anywhere
He's so cold, rainin' on the world tonight
All the angels kneeling to the Northern Lights
And I pray beggin' to the Northern Star
I'm afraid it won't lead you anywhere

He's so cold, he will rule the world tonight
All the angels kneeling to the Northern Lights
Kneeling to the frozen lights
Feel their hearts, they're cold as ice

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/