Darkroom Familia

Times are hard and getting rougher

Could never understand why my family had to suffer

May be it's because we're not as fortunate as others

At least we had each other and we can rely on one anotherWorking hard just to make ends meet

Through good and bad we refused to accept defeat

Trying to give us what they never could have

Not a day goes by that we don't thank God for what we haveFor what we haveTimes are hard but getting better

We paid our dues but money doesn't last forever

Maybe it's because the money doesn't always matter

At least we had each other and we can rely on anotherWorking hard just to make ends meet

Through good and bad we've refused to accept defeat

Trying to give us what they never could have

Not a day goes by that we don't thank God for what we haveFor what we haveI thank my family for everything that was given to me

Being there no matter what, even willing to die for me

They're not at fault, I'm not as good as I'm supposed to be

They did their part and now it's all up to meI thank God and all my family
Did their best and now it's up to me
