Good As I Was To You (Live In Studio)

Lorrie Morgan

She drove up to the restaurant where they use to dine
He was sitting at the table with someone new this time
She walked up and right beside him, her face did not turn red
She looked at him so calmly and this is what she said"Good as I was to you, is this the thanks I get?
Are all the years we've shared so easy to forget?
Does this mean that you've won? Are you finally having fun?
Is she your dream come true? Oh she sure looks good
But she won't ever be, good as I was to you"The room got awfully quiet and everybody stared
Finally the waiter said, "Should I bring another chair?"
She said, "No I was just leaving", but as she walked out the door
She said, "Honey, you can have him, I don't want him anymore"Good as I was to you is this the thanks I get?
Are all the years we shared so easy to forget?
Is this the way it's done, looking out for number one?
Did you think it through? Oh, she sure looks good
But she won't ever be, good as I was to you
