Cure

Moonchild

I've had my eyes on you for awhile and though it seems the time isn't right I know you want the love that I've got to givewe laughed and kissed til the sun took us by surprise telling the whole truth about our lives I'm so in love with that you've got to giveI can show you that love is the cure for heartache let me show you baby, don't be afraid of a good thing I can show you that love is the cure for heartacheyou think your heart needs to hurt for awhile longer live all alone til it makes you stronger learn who you are without her loveI know, I've been there before but I won't wait for a love like yours I can't hesitate stay awhile and let me change your mind I can show you that love is the cure for heartache
let me show you baby, don't be afraid of a good thing
I can show you that love is the cure for heartache
