Over the Waterfall

Robert Earl Keen

I slipped through your fingers
Into the clouds
Ran down the concrete hallways
Pushed through the crowdsI watched by the water
Reached for the sun
Why did I bother
What's done is doneAnd all that's left of me now
Is waiting to drown
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
I fall downSoldiers of fortune
Stand by your door
You can't remember
What you hired them forYou cleared your conscience
And I left a stain
The beauty of sadness is
Feeling the painAnd all that's left of me now
Is waiting to drown
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
I fall downAnd only the sad stone man can hear my cry
And only the tall blue girl can see
I lost my way, I have no alibi
So no one will know you knew meRandomly speaking
Pieces of light
The clowns from the circus
Got drunk here last nightThey talked of reunion
Then left on their own
What they've never known is
What you've always knownAnd all that's left of me now
Is waiting to drown

Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling)Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
Over the waterfall
(Falling down)
I fall down
