Veins

Raffertie

For days and days
We let this pass straight through our hands
The slipping thoughts of how we used to taste

So take our love and leave me like an open chest
For months you'll live to sink into your sins

What have you become, love
What have you become

Oh-oh, you take what I need to live
You crawl into my chest and rip into my skin
Ripping through my skin

For days and days it's hard to say it got this bad
You choke on thoughts you buried in your head

And does it make it hard to breathe
The thoughts of me spread like disease
Until you're screaming out my name
You're screaming out my name

Oh-oh, you take what I need to live
You crawl into my chest and rip into my skin
Oh-oh, you take what I need to live
You crawl into my chest and rip into my skin
You're ripping through my skin
You're ripping through my

Open up your veins, love
Open up your veins and drain what you've become
Drain what you've become
Open up your veins, love
Open up your veins and drain what you've become
Drain what you've become
Open up your veins
Open up your veins and drain what you've become
Drain what you've become
Open up your veins
Open up your veins and drain what you've become

Drain what you've become

Oh-oh, you take what I need to live
Oh-oh, you take what I need, what I need
Oh-oh, you take what I need to live
You crawl into my chest and rip into my skin
Ripping through my skin

Open up your veins and drain what you've become
Drain what you've become
