Blues At Midnight

B.B. King

When that midnight hour went chiming
I was in my room alone
Yes, when that midnight hour was chiming
I was in my room aloneYes, and when I came home this evening
I found my baby goneOh, I laid my head on my pillow
I gazed up at the stars up above
Yes, I laid my head on my pillow
Yes, looking up at the stars aboveI tell you it's a miserable feeling
Oh, when you lose the one you loveOh, I get the blues at midnight
Oh, there's one thing I can't describe
Oh, I get the blues at midnight
Oh, there's one thing I can't describeYes, and when you look at your baby's picture
Oh, the tears will come from your eyes
