

The Son Is Not the Father

A Skylit Drive

Do you feel medicated, do you feel separated?
It s not like you ever tried, it's not your time
It s like this life swallowed you whole into the great unknown
    Into the darkness alone
    It s not like you ever tried
    You let the sickness inside
    You left us all behind
You didn't even try to survive (You didn't even try)
You didn't even care, you left us all behind (Left us behind)
You didn't even care, you didn't even try (You didn't try)
    Too young and too soon (Too young and too soon)
        Too young and too soon
        It s not like you ever tried
        You let the sickness inside
        You left us all behind
    I don't mind, you're separated
    Your time is running out, too far to turn back now
    I never got to hear you say, "I'm better off this way"
        I never heard you say, I never heard you say
        You didn't even try to survive (You didn't even try)
        You didn't even care, you left us all behind (Left us behind)
        You didn't even care, you didn't even try (You didn't try)
        Too young and too soon (Too young and too soon)
            I will find peace of mind
            So whenever I see you again
            I can forgive you but I won't forget
            That you didn't mean to stay
            I never got to say it's okay
                It s okay
            I never got to say it's okay
                (I never got to say)
            Too young and too soon
            I never got to say it's okay
                (I never got to say)
            Too young and too soon
        You didn't even try to survive (You didn't even try)
        You didn't even care, you left us all behind (Left us behind)
        You didn't even care, you didn't even try (You didn't try)
        Too young and too soon (Too young and too soon)

Too much to let go of the past
Too young to surrender what we had
Too young and too soon
Too much to let go of the past
Too young to surrender what we had
Too young and too soon
It's not like you ever tried

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>