

Daylight Obsession

Forgotten Tomb

I watched into the burning sun.
My eyes filled with obsession.
An eternal walk towards nothing.
An empty road, as long as my eternal sickness. I watched into a dead horizon.
My blood falls into the sun.
My thoughts drown into emptiness.
Stench of death in the air. The sickness of a summer afternoon.
My sticky flesh covered by insects.
A dream of naked bodies dying on meathooks.
The smell of your slaughtered whore-meat rotting under a blinding sun. Your last stop - Dead end.
My twisted visions revealed to you.
You'll never understand this ravishing desire for demise. Hanged dolls, sing-song.
Bones swinging endlessly.
Hot winds of a funeral day. I walked through the same old walls.
I smelled the same old dust.
Dust of forgotten times.
Dust of ! shallow lives.
