

Love Is a Lie

3 Doors Down

Said you wanted to feel beautiful
And did I ever tell you differently?
I tried to give you all that you deserved
And never mind the things you said to me
Along the way I didn't say all the things I felt inside myself
You took away all that I thought was mine
And then you gave it all to someone else
You said you only wanted love
The love wasn't enough
And soon enough you said goodbye, goodbye
How weary am I to be?
Of all that I can see
And I can see your love was a lie
Everybody told me I was crazy
But you told me to believe your lies
Guess I was sober, but now your love might save me
But I think I died a thousand times
I never knew this side of you
The side that I wish I had never seen
Soon enough I guess I would discover I had a lover could be so mean
You said you only wanted love
The love wasn't enough
So soon enough you said goodbye, goodbye
How weary am I to be?
Of all that I can see
And I can see your love was a lie
You said you only wanted love
The love wasn't enough
So soon enough you said goodbye, goodbye
How weary am I to be?
Of all that I can see
And I can see your love was a lie
Said you wanted to feel beautiful
And did I ever tell you differently?
I tried to give you all that you deserved
Never mind the things you said
You said you only wanted love
The love wasn't enough
So soon enough you said goodbye, goodbye
How weary am I to be?
Of all that I can see
And I can see your love was a lie
You said you only wanted love
The love wasn't enough
So soon enough you said goodbye, goodbye
How weary am I to be?

Of all that I can see
And I can see your love was a lie

Songwriters
BRAD ARNOLD
Published by Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>