Drizzle

Cory Breth

Drizzle â€“ Cory Breth

Stormy times inside of me
Travel far so I can see
Rain that falls so softly
Some time with my old friend

Drizzle falling over me
Taking back so suddenly
Why is she so lovely
When I thought we were just friends

Soft rain falls so hard on me
Why are you so hard on me
I can stand but barely see
We just canâ€™t survive

Why is this so hard on me
I tried to tread it cautiously
But now my loving ministry
Is captured my own eyes

This feeling I donâ€™t want it
Cause I know I canâ€™t confront it
But Iâ€™ll always wish Iâ€™d done it
Less I take it off the shelf

Some years ago I met her here
Two years a whisper in my ear
Today is just the first time
I stopped lying to myself

Soft falls so hard on me
Why are you so hard on me
I can stand by barely see
That we just canâ€™t survive

We just canâ€™t survive

Why is this so hard on me
I tried to tread it cautiously
But bow my loving ministry
Has captured my own eyes

If I could chase you across the sea
Iâ€™d run and chase you down
If I could just get halfway there
Then Iâ€™d also halfway drown

Cause you are so far away
So far across the sea
Yeah youâ€™re too far away
In every way from me

Too far apart to make it
Too close to let it be
But youâ€™re so far away
Too far away from me
