

Ex-Shuffle

Gob

Things coming down, it's all that I see
I turn and look but it don't bother me
Is there any way I could get by?
What reason? I don't understand why I always say, know I know
We're always getting nowhere, nowhere
I guess I'll never learn, never learn
'Cause I'm never gonna grow up All the time, she thinks I'm lying Hurts so bad inside I like dying
I'm not around, she tells me, she's crying
Even though, even though I know what's right, another day, another lecture
Somehow I think this will re-occur
It's something now that I foresee
This chemistry is a bad recipe
