Hopeless

Throwdown

I can't just look away
'Cuz the hate is burned into my mind.
I can't feel anything
'Cus the hate has left me dead inside
There's a fine fucking line
Between love and hate
That we cross at least once of every goddamn day
And while you're saying that you love me
You still push me away
You tie me at the wrists
So that you can't be saved
Can't save you
You never wanted me to
Can't save you now
I can't just look away
Cus the hate is burned into my mind
I can't feel anything
Cus the hate has left me dead inside
There's a fucking line
Between love and hate that I've drawn,
That you've crossed and now you can't be saved
If all you wanted was to die
Then I won't stop you today
'Cuz I know your game
I know you'll never change
Can't save you
You never wanted me to
Can't save you now
We've tried and failed so many times.
And I'd try for you again but I've drawn,
That the line
You've lied too many goddamn times
And I'd save your life again
But you've crossed the line and died
You crossed the line.
But you'll never fucking cross me now
Cuz I won't fucking save you.
You never wanted me to
And I played the role for too long

No I won't save your hopeless life
Fuck no
No one can fuckin' save you.
