

Seventeen

The Tallest Man On Earth

You're driving too fast you pace like the crazies and I can't hear what you say You want to believe but you are just guessing but you always get away
If I wasn't only seventeen
now stuck on the highway
'cause I feel
It's not where I was going all these sixteen hundred miles
went to see what's mine
in streets of the fading lines It's still kinda warm but seasons are changing where you stand and smoke them down You look pretty cold yes, I'm always shaking Can you hold me for a little while?
If I wasn't only seventeen
now stuck on the highway
'cause I feel
It's not where I was going
all these sixteen hundred miles
went to see what's mine
in streets of the fading lines
You call up all time you have all these visions and you're thirsty all around Your heart goes too fast your legs are still shaking Won't you come in for a while?
If I wasn't only seventeen
now stuck on the highway
'cause I feel
It's not where I was going
all these sixteen hundred miles
went to see what's mine
in streets of the fading lines

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>