So Glad

Amy Grant

I had laid some mighty plans Thought I held them in my hands Then my world began to crumble all away I tried to build it back again I couldn't bear to see it end How it hurt to know, you wanted it that way And I'm so glad Glad to find the reason That I'm happy-sad That you've torn it all away And I'm so glad Though it hurts to know I'm leaving Everything I ever thought that I would be Once I held it in my hand It was a kingdom made of sand But now, you've blown it all away I can't believe that I can say that I'm glad Long before my plans were made I know a master plan was laid With a power that superseded my control And if that truth could pierce my heart I wouldn't wander from the start Trying desperately to make it on my own

And I'm so glad
Glad to find the reason
That I'm happy-sad
That you've torn it all away
And I'm so glad
Though it hurts to know
I'm leaving
Everything I ever thought that I would be
Once I held it in my hand
It was a kingdom made of sand
But now, you've blown it all away
I can't believe that I can say that I'm glad
So glad
Oh, I'm so glad

So glad
Oh, I'm so glad
Yes, I'm glad
So very, very glad
La, la, la
La, la, la
La, la la, la la
La, la la, la la
Ada, la la

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/