Science Of It All

Edgewater

Heard it all before but it's this time it's calling out
Coming back for more
Looking through the center of an ordinary life
It's taking over my mind
Who will save me from myself?
I can't take this one last step
My tired eyes have been deprived
And I can see the light, I can't take it anymore
Heard it all before but it's this time it's calling out
Knocking at my door
Feeling all the pressures of this circumstantial time
It's taking over my life

Who will save me from myself?
I can't take this one last step
My tired eyes have been deprived
It's time to say goodbye, I can't take it anymore
You break my confidence down
You took my last breath for yourself
I trusted you with my fate
Free the pain and wash away again
Your reckless words offended
Free the pain and wash away my friend
