husband&wife

Home away from Home away from home
How sick can I get
Of changing my address
And changing every person that I know

Steven, I'm sorry
I know I shouldn't have left
Cause now I realize I'm guilty of what's been making me upset
I should have never kept you out so late
We better head back
Before this town gets dark
And We're all grown up

Why am I the last one
To leave always
I never asked you for anything
But now I'm begging you to stay

Why am I the last one
To notice you
And sending signals one hundred years
But now I'm begging you to stay
