

Turn the Page

Gloria Loring

My heart, once upon a time, knew castles, kings and magic things could all be mine
And with every story told a tale was spun of how the straw was turned into gold

So when the question needs an answer, turn the page
When you need another chance or think you've lost your way
You never know what's true until you see it through
Remember you can always turn the page

Fear had its way with me and walls and doors and distant shores were all I could see
But there in the looking glass
The future held its promise in the hands of the past

So when the question needs an answer, turn the page
When you need another chance or think you've lost your way
You never know what's true until you see it through
Remember you can always turn the page

Somewhere in the darkness there's a dream that seeks the light
All those possibilities are just beyond our sight
Let yourself believe and then the wind will catch your sail
You decide what is real and what's a fairy tale

So when the question needs an answer, turn the page
When you need another chance or think you've lost your way
You never know what's true until you see it through
Remember you can always turn the page

You can turn the page

Lyrics by Gloria Loring and Lori Barth

Lyrics submitted by Gloria Loring.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>