The Knot

Jill Barber

When the love that you share
Is enough that need to declare
Once the love song is sung
You tie your love in a knot that will never be undoneOnce a vow is made
And forever is obeyed
Once a heart is won
You tie your love in a knot that will never be undoneHere you stand
Before everyone
Hand in hand
Held so tight they just might never be undone, undoneTied like string 'round your fingers
Like a ring so you'll never forget
The love that has grown here already
And the love that you haven't known yet
