Forget

Subhumans

So I get up in the morning like most people do
I look in the mirror and I think of you
So I smash it to pieces and go downstairs
I walk down the road and meet someone I knew
It could've been god but I think it was you
So I forget all about it I don't really care
[Chorus:]
I remember the face, the place, the time
I wrote you a song but it didn't rhyme
But I don't wanna remember
I Just wanna forgetAn advert on telly for plastic goo
The dummy's so real it could almost be you
But it smiles all the time and it doesn't exist
Crashed out in the gutter covered in spew
Last thing I remember is a picture of you
But I smashed it last week when I was pissed
