

Adria's Warhol

Diesel Boy

yesterday, I called an old friend in l.a. we laughed for hours about = those days anyway, he's doing fine I'm glad to say it's funny, some = things never change my dreams fade, but my memories are saved like the = lion, they are brave what have I become? it's either all or none I never = wanted anything from this world but love will I overcome? or will it = leave me feeling numb? I never wanted anything from the world but love = destiny, I think mine's leading me astray I'm on the tracks, here comes = the train I can't complain, life's been good to me these days I guess =

I'll just fade away
