Falling Unknown

Neurosis

With the wind at your back and the light in your eyes
The freeze of your blindness will show
Under the cloud cover, the flares signal change
Will you ever know?The fields, they are burning, the smoke chokes your breath
Will you stand or run?
You dream of a mountain, the peaks rise to the sky
Will you answer its call?Is your heart still beating? Can you feel this at all?
This landslide will bury us all
With the storm on your mind and the clouds in your eyes
Will you survive?Lie in wait, I will lie awake
Falling through a world unknown
