Miracle

Joanna

looking just to lay my head upon the bed everything is out of control doesn't anyone know?
reality is scaring me it's hard to breathe and sometimes in the dead of the night I just break down and crychorus:all all we want is a miracle to walk right through the door all all we ever wanted is a miracle a miraclecraving for a way to escape ordinary days terrified to walk out the door will I regret what's instore? well can't you see you're telling everyone you're doing fine and some, somehow we stopped believing now all we do is run and hidechorus againbridge:maybe someday things will start to change and maybe somehow we will break the chain one by one gotta pick up the pieces everyone's trying not to fall apart all we're going through all we're gonna lose I'm keeping my faith God, it's all I can do hoping everything doesnt come undone praying just to carry--carry onchorus again
