Give Nothing Away

Bare Jr.

I gave you a kiss last Saturday
And you still will not give one back to me
You never have good apology
And your hooves never wrap all the way around meAnd if you want something you gotta give something
You can't take nothing if you don't give nothing awaySometimes at the movies if I buy you a soda
You do sit just a little bit closer
And while we're all spending my money
Sometimes you do smile but I get madIf you want something you gotta give something
You can't take nothing if you don't give nothing awayWould you share with me?
And whatever I got is never enough [Incomprehensible]I feel so special when you are close to me
And if you cared it all for me
You would swear to God that you hated me
And send me away with [Incomprehensible]If you want something you gotta give something
You can't take nothing if you don't give nothing awayIf you want something you gotta give something
You can't take nothing if you don't give nothing awayIf you want something you gotta give something
You can't take nothing if you don't give nothing awayWhen nothing free would you share with me?And now for something completely different
