

Face On the Bridge (Radio Edit)

Asia

It was a day, just like any other day
I walked alone, through the old town
But what happened then, would have happened anyway
The water stopped turning, and time stood still
What could it be, that set you apart from the people I meet
Thousands of faces, there's only one I can see
A face in the crowd, that's calling so loud that it hurts me
Here in this place, you are the face on the bridge
Unlock my head, to the king of Bohemia
I give my thanks, for she set me free
Without this girl, I would simply not be here
Her face on the bridge, made a man of me
What could it be, that set you apart from the people I meet
Thousands of faces, there's only one I can see
A face in the crowd, that's calling so loud that it hurts me
Here in this place you are the face on the bridge
You offered your hand, you brought me back from the edge
Here in this place, you are the face on the bridge
What could it be, that set you apart from the people I meet
Thousands of faces, there's only one I can see
A face in the crowd, that's calling so loud that it hurts me
Here in this place, you are the face on the bridge
You offered your hand, you brought me back from the edge
Here in this place, you are the face on the bridge
You are the face on the bridge
You are the face on the bridge

Songwriters

GEOFF DOWNES, K WETTON JOHN

Published by

Lyrics © Peermusic Publishing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>