

Weathered and Worn

Seasons After

Weathered and Worn

Torn

We are all victims of our circumstance

With a second glance i love that i am not the only one Whos been countless by religion and all the superstition

That its brought in to my life since i was young take it from me

 its already too late

 separated by fate

 Waken up in new ways broken by my confidence

 how cold i have seen what my life would be

 how could i have known youre watching over me

 how could i have tried spiritual suicide?

 how did i end up alone

 its complicated to be ripped and torn and we better love suspicions plagued by our addictions

 yet we never seem to settle up this score

 Its already too late

 waking up in new ways broken by my confidense

 how could i have seen what my life would be

 how did i end up alone

 Weathered and Worn

 How could i have seen that (you)

 How could i have known youre watching over me

 How did i end up alone

 How did i end up alone
