

Big Jumps

EmilÃ-ana Torrini

I walked all morning to lift my heart
'Cause the world keeps dancing with the paper man
I love you, never talk in dreams
But now it's here, your happiness is real
Oh, make some big jumps, big jumps
You're afraid to break some bones
Come on, make some big jumps, big jumps
Life is yours alone
You hold your head up, your head up high
Like you think I do
Sometimes I feel so confused
I'm under the illusion that I have to choose
I love you, always know the way
The way back home always is the same
Oh, make some big jumps, big jumps
You're afraid to break some bones
Come on, make some big jumps, big jumps
Life is yours alone
You hold your head up, your head up high
Like you think I do
Tick-tock, this clockwork will stop

You're the key for winding up my heart
Brick-brack, if you don't wind me up
The sky will lie upon me like a passed-out drunk
Without you I would never rise again
Without you I would never rise
Hey there, sunshine, lift my heart
I know life is long but it goes so fast
I love you, never feeling old
You never bought the rubbish that they sold
Oh, make some big jumps, big jumps
You're afraid to break some bones
Come on, make some big jumps, big jumps
Life is yours alone
You hold your head up, your head up high
Like you think I do
Oh, do some big jumps, big jumps
You're afraid to break some bones

Come on, make some big jumps, big jumps
Life is yours alone
You hold your head up, your head up high
Like you think I do
