

People, People

Donna Summer

People, people wherever you are
Wake and listen
It won't take long
People, people wherever you are
Father wants to hear from you all
It's a shame but it's no tragedy
You've been gone much too long
Can't you see running scared
Please come back to me
Dieux vous appelle
Callin' People, people wherever you are
Wake and listen
It won't take long
People, people wherever you are
Father wants to hear from all you
It's a shame but it's no tragedy
You've been gone much too long
Can't you see running scared
There's still time to get in touch
With me Dieux vous appelle
This bulletin just in
Another story of a run-away child
Whose anguished father wants her
Back home
If anyone has any information
Regarding her whereabouts
Please call this emergency number
432-8360 She contemplates just for a moment
She turns again to get it straight
Takes the phone and dials
The number
Just in time to hear him say
It's a shame but it's no tragedy
You've been gone much too long
Can't you see running scared
Please come back to me
Call people please call
