Fall Back Into My Life

Amber Pacific

I know it's not enough to say I'm wrong
You know that I will miss you now you're gone
I know it's not your life to see this through
Just know that in my heart, it beats for you
So leave a little note for me behind
I swear I have to know the reasons why
This won't survive
But if you fall back into my life
I'd spend every night waking up to the beat I hear inside
Telling me to be your only one
But if you fall back into my life
I promise you I would never let another day just pass us by
I could never leave this world undone
I want to be your only one
And now it's not the same with you away
Just holding onto hope to save my days
I won't survive

So just stay with me tonight, and try
But if you fall back into my life
I'd spend every night waking up to the beat I hear inside
Lyrics
Telling me to be your only one
But if you fall back into my life
I promise you I would never let another day just pass us by
I could never leave this war unsung
I want to be your only one
But if you fall back into my life
I'd spend every night waking up to the beat I hear inside
Telling me to be your only one
But if you fall back into my life
I promise you I would never let another day just pass us by
I could never leave this world undone
I could never leave this war unsung
I want to be your only one
