

Still Worth Fighting

Kent Moran

Lookin up at the stars
Lookin down on me
How'd I get so far
From where I wanna be
What happened to the life
That I wanna lead
I'm drivin in this car
But not toward anything
Oh somewhere
In between the
Pain, the hurt and everything
I lost the one thing
That meant everything
And now I'm left here
Without anything
I just want things back
To the way they used to be
It's the only thing
Still worth fighting for
We used to laugh before we'd cry
We used to live before we died
We used to laugh when everyone told us
How to live our lives
You used to fall into my arms
And now tears fall from your eyes
When it was good, it was great
When it was bad, we made mistakes
There's only so much I can take
I don't wanna leave it up to fate
Now here's my heart laid in your hands
If you wanna give it back you can
But before you break it understand
That I wanna be your...Somewhere
In between the
Pain, the hurt and everything
I lost the one thing
That meant everything
Without anything
I just want things back
To the way they used to be
It's the only thing
Still worth fighting for
When it was good it was great
When it was bad we made mistakes

(And I'd do it all over)When it was good it was great
When it was bad we made mistakes
(And I'd do it all over)Can we do it all over again, again, again
Can we do it all over again
