Time Can Never Kill The True Heart

Stars

One step closer to the sea wall Looking down, you can see all Hold my hand so you don't fall Catch your breath as the gulls call One heart out of two One life, me and you One heart out of two One life, me and you Last mile in the pale light Take me home with you tonight We'll touch till it feels right You won't say, "Love" but I might One heart out of two One life, me and you

One heart out of two One life, me and you Made love and you muttered, "We're through" One heart, but the mind was in two One heart half filled with the dreams of a saint The other filled with nothing but hate I hope I die in the arms of a child In a meadow where the thistles grow wild One heart out of two One life, me and you One heart out of two One life, me and you

> Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/