

U Get On My Nerves

Jazmine Sullivan

Hello? Why are you calling my phone again?
Look I told you this was over
I don't wanna hear it
Look, there's nothing you can say
That's gonna change my mind
No, I moved on, what?
Well, I didn't call to have a convo
I just think I might've left
Some of my clothes over your house
Couple shirts and a hat
So if you didn't burn them
Can I get them back?
Now what is you yelling at me for?
I don't give a damn if he's your new boo
You always tryin' ta get loud
That's why we not together now
Listen, I don't give a damn that you moved on
'Cause anything I felt for you, been gone
I was done from the time that you busted my windows
And any time I think about missing you
I remember the stress that you put me through
The time I lost, how much it cost
So now I want you to know
And I swear I don't know
How we lasted that long
You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
I'm glad we're not together now
And now I'm alright
'Cause with you everything was all wrong
You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
So glad we're not together now
So glad we're not together now
So glad we're not together now
Oh, so glad we're not together now
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know why you called but it won't work
This ain't 'bout a watch or a T-shirt

But if that's what you wanna stick with
I can have your shit Fed Exed in the mornin'
So I guess this is finished
I guess someone will send it
This should be no reason
You should ever dial my digits
You should never ever have to
Call me up pretending
'Cause baby, I know you're pretending
See, I don't wanna fight 'cause it ain't the point
It's sad that you called just to hear my voice
You should have known I was done
When I busted your windows
'Cause you won't say it
But I know that you need me back
And I'm glad I can say it
I don't need you back
I did my part, you broke my heart
But I won't make the same mistakes again
Oh and I swear I don't know
How we lasted that long
You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
I'm glad we're not together now
And now I'm alright
'Cause with you everything was all wrong
You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
So glad we're not together now
I ain't gonna lie
I think about if we could try
And make it work one more time
Could we do it?
I'll admit it cross my mind
If it's something we can handle
Then something clicks in time
And I remembered I can't stand you
No, no, no, no, oh, no, no, no, no
And I swear I don't know
How we lasted that long
You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
So glad we're not together now
And now I'm alright
'Cause with you everything was all wrong

You get on my damn nerves
Damn nerves, damn nerves
So glad we're not together now
